 Important

 Candidates will not be admitted to the test if they:

- arrive without an identity document;
- present an invalid identity document;
- arrive after the identification procedures have closed.

 Before the Test Begins

Candidates must leave their bags, backpacks, and switched-off electronic devices at the cloakroom of their assigned room.

The designated staff will direct candidates to their assigned desk.

This procedure is intended to ensure proper organization, supervision, and identification of all participants.

It is forbidden to sit in a room and/or at a seat other than the one assigned by the staff.

Permitted Items

Only the following items are allowed:

- A small bottle of water without a label
- A small snack

During the Test, It Is Forbidden To

- Change the assigned room or seat. Any unauthorized movement will result in the cancellation of the test.
- Leave the room or the assigned seat.
- Use mobile phones or any electronic device capable of storing or transmitting data. All devices must be switched off.
- Consult notes, texts of any kind, calculators, computers, or other unauthorized materials or devices.
- Communicate with other candidates during the test.
- Use smartphones, smartwatches, smart glasses, earphones/earbuds of any kind (including noise-cancelling versions), or any object that may cover the ears.

Candidates who engage in improper conduct or fail to comply with the rules will be excluded from the admission process.

Candidates are strongly advised to respect the scheduled check-in time in order to allow the identification and security procedures that take place before entering the examination room to be completed properly.
