Article 1

The following selection procedure, based on titles and examinations, is called for the award of no. 1 Research Grant for cooperation in research activities, with a duration of 12 months, in the field of Educational sciences (SDS M-PED/01), for the following activities: The research aims to investigate the "new" vulnerabilities and the resources of immigrant women/girls living in Italy, in order to develop an intercultural model for the training of teachers that work in CPIAs. CPIAs appear today as contexts particularly complex but also potentially capable to mitigate the social and educational effects of the pandemic, especially in the case of women with young children. This as long as teachers are adequately trained not only from a pedagogical/didactic point of view, but also from a linguistic and cultural one. The research intends to respond to this challenge through an ethnographic case study that aims to detect the new-needs and resources of immigrant women/mothers enrolled in CPIAs, by giving voice to their stories of life and migration. It also aims to co-design new methods for teacher-training – based on this database - that would strengthen their skills as “key figures or tutor in resilience” able to enhance female agency.

Art. 2. - ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS. The selection is open to candidates holding a scientific and professional curriculum suitable for the requested research activities as provided in the present call, holding a Second Cycle University Degree or equivalent (Laurea Specialistica/Magistrale, Laura Magistrale a ciclo unico / Laurea vecchio ordinamento, prior to Ministerial Decree no. 509/99).
